

Danube Cycle Path

Vienna – Bratislava | in 2 days

Info

The Danube cycling path does not end up in Vienna! East of Vienna begins the fascinating landscape of the Pannonian Lowlands. The wonderful “Donauauen” National Park is one of the last primeval forests in Europe. Furthermore, the Slovakian capital Bratislava enchants its guests with a lovely restored old city centre and numerous intriguing sights.

Itinerary

1. Day: Vienna – Bratislava, approx. 42 km + train ride Haslau - Wolfsthal

Depart from the big city life and ride into pure nature. The “Donauauen” National Park can easily be enjoyed in peace and quietness. A passage with a small ferry (not incl.) is an adventure. After a short break on a quick train ride, you get back on the bike path and cycle to Bratislava, the capital of Slovakia. Perched high above the city, a majestic castle greets you from afar. The affectionately restored old part of the city and its innumerable cafés are awaiting your visit. Take advantage and enjoy a stroll through this remarkable city.

2. Day: Bratislava

Included bus from Bratislava to Vienna. Schedule more often a day, also stops at the airport Schwechat. Duration: approx. 1:20 hour
