

BUDAPEST INTERLUDE 2019

Budapest, the magnificent Hungarian capital, proudly straddles the River Danube, neatly dividing the city in two. On one side the hilly district of Buda, with the castle and the Fishermen's Bastion, offers splendid views over the city and the land beyond. Pest, on the other, has developed to become the commercial centre of this thriving metropolis, with the Parliament and the busy shopping area around the Vaci Utca. The wide boulevards, the city parks, the impressive architecture reminiscent of the days of the Austro-Hungarian Empire, the spicy cuisine and the passionate music; all this makes a visit to this fascinating city well worthwhile.
